MRS SMITH SAYS HE BROKE PROMISE

Brings Suit Against Her Father-In-Law to Recover the Sum 01 $5,000.

HOW DIVORCE WAS HEADED OFF

Promised to Give Her a House and Lot Providing She Withdrew The Action.

The case of Mrs. W. R. Smith against her father-in-law, Henry J. Smith, is on trial before a jury in Judge Morse's caurt today. Plaintiff seeks to recove $5,000, the value of a home which she alleges her father-in-law promised to give her, provided she would drop the divorce proceedings against her husband and resume the marriage relations with him. Mrs. Smith, who is now only 16 years of age, testified on the stand today that after she started divorce proceedings against her husband her father-in-law fold her that if she would dismiss the same he would provide her a sultable home either in Salt Lake or Murray and would see that she was provided for. She had the case dis-missed, but she says that Mr. Smith refuses to keep his promise in regard to giving her a home.

The defendant will put in the defense that there was no agreement in writing concerning the transaction, and as it involves the transfer of real estate a verbal agreement is not binding upon either of the parties to it.

DOOLY BLOCK ACCIDENT.

Mrs. Bagshaw Seeks to Recover Damages to Extent of $10,000.

The owners of the Dooly block have been made defendants in a damage sui filed in the district court yesterday af-ternoon by Harriet Russell, administratrix of the estate of Frederick Bag shaw, deceased, to recover $10,000 damages for the death of decedent, who was killed by the elevator in the building on May 29, 1904. Mr. Bagehaw was employed as nightwatchman at the build ing, and in making his rounds riways used the west elevator in going from floor to floor. Nothing of Criminal Nature Discovered in Relation to the Boy's Death.

DEVELOPMENTS.

Boys Made a Fire for Light and Smoke May Have Forced Young Brown Back Into the Tunnel.

The funeral of Marcus Brown, the $year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Brown, who was drowned in the tunnel on North Temple street Wednesday night, is being held this afternoon at A o'clock at the family residence, 83 Third street. The body was in such a condition that it could not be preserved long-

The police have made a careful investigation into the causes that led up to the boy's death, and up to this time there is nothing to indicate any criminal action on the part of the unfortunate boy's playmates.

One feature connected with the boy's entrance to the tunnel was not heard until last evening. That is that the boys made a fire in the tunnel, presumboys made a fire in the tunnet, presum-ably for the purpose of giving light, and that the smoke may have pre-vented Marcus from getting out of the tunnet, and forced him back until he got where the water was deep and

The police say, however, that there is nothing to indicate that the fire was made with the intention of forcing young Brown back into the fatal trap.
All the boys who saw Marcus in the tunnel declare that when they left for their respective homes, they suppose that young Brown had gone home, and thy did not suspect that he was still in Later she learned that it was wise to plant the seed of the grains and care for them till the harvest. Man was toe busy killing things to take any part in this labor. So woman evolved the art of agriculture. Next the race found out by experiment that flesh tasted better when it was subjected to the heat of fire. Man was too busy killing things to roast the game he had killed. Woman had to do that. So woman was the original cook. Woman found early that the grains would be more palatable and easily chewed if they were broken into fine bits. She ground them in a stone mortar and made the first meal. Thus woman invented the art of milling. Woman inwas thus the first potter.

When man had killed off the savage beasts of the jungle and had killed als all that he could of his own kind his restless soul invaded woman's sphere, He invented and devised machines to take the place of handwork. And, mark you, the very moment man took hold of woman's occupations that moment began fraud, cheating and cheapening in every one of her noble, useful industries for the feeding, clothing and sheltering of the race.
